Making Mattapoisett Beautiful

Renovations Aim to Improve Shipyard Park

There are a handful of notable, recognizable landmarks which are immediately associated with Mattapoisett: the towering facade of the Ned's Point lighthouse, the tell-tale seahorse perched at the intersection of Route 6 and North Street, and the scenic landscape of the town wharf and adjoining Shipyard Park.

Although the town's most notable summer festival — Harbor Days — has come and gone, leaving the park vacant in its wake, the inherent beauty and striking charm of the harborside area remains. And this year several town businesses, officials and volunteer residents have worked to improve the quality of an-already picturesque spot.

"A lot of people have helped and donated their time to fix up the park and wharf area," said Selectmen Chairman John N. DeCosta. "I think it looks great with all the improvements we've made."

Improvements started late last winter when Harbormaster Steve Mach and all three members of the Board of Selectmen helped to install the newly-purchased lights on long wharf. The lights — which are contained in old-style, Victorian copper gaslight frames enclosed in break resistant glass — were installed to replace more conventional floodlights which were either destroyed or taken down in the aftermath of Hurricane Bob. This summer, a matching set of lights was placed along Shipyard Park, providing a more traditional look to the entire New England harborside.

Another notable improvement at Shipyard Park was the replacement of the flagpole near the gazebo at the park's center. Having split in the torrential winds of Hurricane Bob two years ago, the pole was returned to its place of honor near the band gazebo through the generous efforts of Brownell's Boatyard, Inc. and the Mattapoisett Highway Department. The top half of the restored 89-and-a-half-foot pole, from the mast yard arm up, was once the main mast of The Wanderer, the last whaling bark built in Mattapoisett. In fact, the band gazebo now sits at the precise point where The Wanderer was constructed. The flag which now flies atop the pole was donated by the Florence Eastman Post 280 American Legion.

A few weeks ago, several shade trees which were purchased by the town with monies collected from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) were planted throughout the park and also at Ned's Point to help beautify the scenery at both locations. FEMA provides cities and towns with money to repair and restore any municipal property damaged through natural disasters.

Just prior to Memorial Day, several wooden benches constructed by the carpentry department students at Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School with materials donated by the Florence Eastman Post 280 American Legion were placed at the park. These new benches, made of pressure-treated wood, were built to replace ones that had rotted having been exposed to the elements.

Most recently, a stockade-type fence and several half barrels of chrysanthemums were placed along the waterfront along with an old maritime anchor which had been removed for some time. The classic anchor is a typical part of Mattapoisett memorabilia and lends a touch of history to the waterfront. The flowers and plantings were donated by Holly Francis at Country Charm Flower Shop in Rochester and the Mattapoisett Highway Department worked in tandem with Harbormaster Steve Mach to install the new fence and anchor.

One thing is certain: despite a few recent complaints that too much money has been expended on improving the waterfront area, all residents have been able to enjoy the scenic tranquility of the newly-renovated Shipyard Park, one of the many bright spots in Mattapoisett.

On the cover: With uncertain weather reports still coming in on Tuesday afternoon (August 31), many Mattapoisett residents decided to play it safe by pulling their boats from the harbor in case Hurricane Emily maintained her northerly trek toward New England. Surely fresh memories of Hurricane Bob from two years ago were what drove many people to be overcautious.

Mattapoisett Selectmen's Meeting

August 31, 1993

A regular meeting of the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday evening, August 31 at 7:03 pm by Chairman John N. DeCosta. Also present were Selectman Daniel O. Mahoney, Selectman Paul E. Lambalot, and Executive Secretary Carol Adams.

After approving the minutes of the August 24 meeting and signing all the payrolls, bills, licenses, permits and correspondence for the week, Chairman DeCosta noted that the Town Hall offices will be closed on Monday, September 6, for the observance of the Labor Day holiday.

There being no outgoing correspondence, Chairman DeCosta noted the following incoming correspondence for the week:

• A memo from Lynn Traudt, Assessors' Administrator, advising the board that the Assessors' Office will be closed on Thursday, September 2; Tuesday, September 14; and Thursday, September 16. The office will be open, however, every Tuesday evening at 7:30 pm.

• Congressman Barney Frank sent a notice and invitation for the board to attend a conference on Housing Finance for the Low and Moderate Income Home Buyer, to be held on Monday, September 13 from 9:30 am to 12:00 noon at Tabor Academy in Marion. The conference will focus on the Farmers Home Section Guaranteed Loan Program, which was authorized by Congress in 1990, and will also look at various low- and moderate-income mortgages that are being offered by lenders in the southeastern Massachusetts area.

Chairman DeCosta noted that the board had also received a notice from Lee Craver of the Marion/Mattapoisett/Rochester Housing Co-Op to attend the meeting and that the Housing Co-Op has benefitted immensely from both Congressman Frank's assistance and the federal programs to be discussed.

Mr. DeCosta also noted that two new first-time homebuyers — one from Mattapoisett and one from Marion — have recently been accepted into the program. There are still funds available to any first-time home buyers in the tri-town area, and those interested should contact either Lee Craver (748-2929) or their respective Town Hall for further information. Applicants can received up to a $10,000 interest subsidy on their mortgage for homes purchased in Marion, Mattapoisett, or Rochester.

• Joseph E. Costa, Ph.D. and Project Manager for the Buzzards Bay Project, submitted a copy of a letter sent to Bob Austin of the Division of Fisheries

• A copy of the Massachusetts Municipal Association (MMA) Legislative Bulletin for the month of August.

Under the Executive Secretary's report, Ms. Adams noted first that Building Inspector Andrew J. Bobola had again inquired if the board would consider increasing fees for town inspectors. Having previously asked the board, he was advised to wait until the new fiscal budget was passed.

"I think we could have him research some other towns and give us a memo on what they charge," Selectman Mahoney said. "Then we discuss increasing the fees as necessary."

Ms. Adams also noted that Louise Souza, Executive Director of the Housing Authority, asked that the board select a State Appointment Member for the Authority. Selectman Mahoney said if anyone is interested in serving as the town representative they should contact the Selectmen's Office, c/o Town Hall. The person selected will serve with four other members on the Housing Authority.

Chairman DeCosta informed his fellow board members that a town flag is currently being designed and sewn to be sent to the State House in Boston for display in the Hall of Flags. Two versions of the flag are being made and the larger one — measuring 8 by 14 feet — will be sent to Boston.

The board then continued their discussion of skateboarders in town, which was begun at last week's meeting. Chairman DeCosta had noted that several young people in town had asked where they could ride their skateboards having been kicked out of many other public locations.

Chairman DeCosta had suggested the parking lot of the American Legion Hall on Depot Street as one location last week.

"I just think it's a terrible idea to allow them to use any public location," Selectman Mahoney said. "But I also understand your concern. Maybe we can talk to Rev. Patch at the Congregational Church and see if he can suggest something."

"A resident suggested our licensing them and having them sign a waiver so we won't be liable if they get hurt," Ms. Adams said.

It was even suggested that they use the parking lot at one of the town schools or the former A&P parking lot (now the Salvation Army) on Route 6.

"I think our insurance carriers would be concerned if we gave them permission to use any public location in town," said Selectman Lambalot.

"I agree," said Selectman Mahoney. "What if someone gets hurt in one of these lots? Who's responsible?"

Having come to terms with Chairman DeCosta's point of view and his "big heart," according to Selectman Mahoney, the board agreed to find a way to rectify the situation. "I think we should get some advice from Rev. Patch and see if he can help us find a solution," Selectman Mahoney said. "This way, we'll at least we'll be taking steps to do something."

There being no further matters to come before the board, they adjourned for the evening at 7:31 pm.

Rochester Selectmen's Meeting

August 30, 1993

A regular meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen was called to order on Monday, August 30 at 7:00 pm by Chairwoman Lorraine Roy Hawkes. Also present were Selectman David L. Hughes, Selectman Michael Murphy and Administrative Secretary Shirley A. Ferreira.

After approving the minutes of the August 16 meeting, with a clarification from Selectman Murphy that he had abstained from voting to put the surplus police cruiser out to bid, Chairwoman Hawkes opened a hearing upon a request from Great Bear Farms, Inc. for an Earth Removal Permit for property off of Dexter's Lane. The applicants, represented by Glen Amaral and James Rezendes of GAF Engineering, Inc., requested permission to move 130,000 cubic feet of material from the 23 acre site.

The major concerns addressed by abuttors present and town officials included the passage of heavy trucks along the already-dilapidated surface of Dexter's Lane and granting a permit for the full 23 acres at one time.

"I'm concerned about Dexter's Lane," said Highway Surveyor Jeffrey Eldridge. "It's in rough shape now and I think heavy truckloads are going to do even more damage to the road."

"In all truth and honesty, the direction you travel will be part of the permit," Chairwoman Hawkes told the applicants. "Coming out of the property and taking a right onto Route 105 would certainly be less wear and tear on our roads."

Selectman Hughes even suggested that the permit might specify that they keep Dexter's Lane in its present condition and agree to pay for any damage incurred by their trucks. "We don't have any objections to that," said Mr. Rezendes, "as long as there isn't any other heavy traffic traveling along the road."

In order to discourage expansive work at the site without making the permitted improvements — which is limited to 5 acres per application under the town's existing by-laws — the board and the applicants agreed to only permit lots 6, 7 and 8, totalling 15 acres, at the present time.

Chairwoman Hawkes then agreed to continue the hearing until September 13 to allow both the Board of Selectmen and the abuttors time to consider the details of the request permit.

At 7:30 pm, Animal Control Officer Thomas Gayoski, Sr. and Kathleen Massey came before the board to discuss Ms. Massey's request to work as an Assistant Animal Control Officer in the town. Chairwoman Hawkes noted that since it has been difficult to contact Mr. Gayoski at times during the day, it might be a good idea to put Ms. Massey on as an assistant.

"I don't see any problem with that, as long as you tell her how rich we get," Mr. Gayoski mused.

Ms. Massey, a Rochester resident who formerly worked in Fall River and presently serves as an Assistant Dog Officer in Mattapoisett, said she was willing to help out in any way she can.

After discussing if she has means for disposing of animal remains which are picked up from town roads, Selectman Hughes stressed that as an assistant, she should simply follow whatever procedures have been used by Mr. Gayoski and his other assistant, Thomas J. Medeiros. "I think the only time things will change is when Tommy (Gayoski) says he can't do it anymore," Selectman Hughes said.

Thomas Gayoski, Jr. also informed the board that the police department and dispatchers need to be advised of who to call in certain cases — whether it be to pick up a dead animal on the road or to answer a dog bite call. "The dispatchers and police need a list of exactly who to call when certain incidents occur," he said.

The board asked that the Animal Control Officer and his appointed assistants make up a list so that it can be posted at the police/dispatch station. The board then unanimously approved the appointment of Ms. Massey as an Assistant Animal Control Officer for a term to expire April 30, 1994.

Chairwoman Hawkes went over incoming correspondence for the week, including:

agricultural and residential district," Mr. Francis said. "Right now, they're all gray areas and I just want a determination."

Chairwoman Hawkes noted that the two parties involved, both residents of Stuart Road, were present and she asked that each briefly explain what the situation is in an orderly manner. "I first gave my complaint to Mr. Francis, which is, basically, I don't think a sawmill at Sippican Estates should be there," said Lawrence Eich. "It's a nuisance and it disturbs both myself and my wife."

Donald Bock, the person who owns and operates the sawmill, next explained that it is a portable unit which he uses to cut wood for his own use. "It's a one-man, portable sawmill that I use myself," Mr. Bock said. "I talked to David Hughes when I bought the unit about a year ago and he said I shouldn't have a problem. But he wasn't a Selectman at the time."

Since there are no direct rules in the town by-laws governing portable sawmills, Board of Appeals Chairman Richard D. Cutler noted that the situation as described didn't seem any different from a person operating a chain saw on his property.

Selectman Hughes also offered a recent article in which a ruling was handed down in a court case deeming sawmills were part of an agricultural business. When asked if he had told Mr. Bock he didn't see any problem with the sawmill, he agreed. "I told him, according to my personal opinion, I didn't see any problem with his running the sawmill," Selectman Hughes said. "Even though I'm a Selectman, I think I still have a right to offer my personal opinion when asked ... and that's something I feel very strongly about."

"I just hope that when you offer your personal opinion, you make it clear that you aren't speaking on behalf of the Board of Selectmen," Chairwoman Hawkes stressed. "I think, in general, we have to be careful about offering personal opinions because it's getting too confusing."

"I think this is the biggest set-up I've ever seen," Mr. Eich countered. "Mr. Hughes came over my house last Thursday to try to work things out and he and Mr. Bock agreed to move the sawmill behind my house, which is worse. Then Mr. Hughes put words in Mr. Bock's mouth by saying he wasn't a Selectman when he gave his opinion."

Having experienced a second incident last week where a businessman told him he had received Selectman Hughes' advice, Mr. Francis said he was wary of offering personal opinions when people seem to take his word as a member of the Board of Selectmen.

"I'd like to ask that the board consider making Mr. Hughes the enforcing authority in building matters," Mr. Francis said. "If Mr. Hughes thinks he can do a better job, then he's welcome to it."

"I think you're doing a good job," Selectman Hughes said. "If I didn't, I wouldn't have reappointed you. But I'm still going to tell you to your face if I have an opinion."

Mr. Francis also suggested having a meeting of all the permit granting authorities in town to cut down on residents having to double up on paperwork and meetings when applying for permits. "We have a situation in town where a business has been granted five different permits, but he doesn't have a zoning license to operate his business there," Mr. Francis said. "I just think we need to set up a system of checks and balances to avoid this."

A meeting was then slated for September 16 with the department heads of all permit issuing authorities in town.

The board granted permission for Mr. Francis to seek legal counsel in the Eich/Bock matter and thanked him for bringing up these issues.

police cruiser with 200,000 miles. The vehicle — set at a minimum of $500 — was awarded to the sole bidder: GTT Auto Sales, Inc. at $502, with Selectman Murphy abstaining.

Chairwoman Hawkes then noted that the board had to consider the sale of a 4-acre, town-owned lot, formerly owned by the Lawrence family. The property has been assessed at $15,300 and has also accrued $2,875.73 in legal and recording fees. There is a right of way to the property, but no direct frontage.

Selectman Hughes moved putting the property out to bid with a minimum of $10,000. Both Chairwoman Hawkes and Selectman Murphy agreed that the minimum should be set at its assessed value of $15,300. The motion was amended and passed to place the property out for bid at a minimum of $15,300. The bidder will also be responsible for assuming all outstanding liens on the property at the time of purchase.

There being no further matters to discuss, the board unanimously agreed at 8:45 pm to go into Executive Session to discuss collective bargaining strategies between the town and the Police Brotherhood. The board would come out of Executive Session only to adjourn for the evening.

Board to Resume Weekly Schedule Next Week

Due to the lack of a quorum for the Marion Board of Selectmen this week, the Selectmen cancelled what was to be the first of their regular weekly meetings for the fall on Tuesday (August 31). Chairman James S. Dougall had business out of town and Selectman Albert E. Winters had to deal with a death in the family, forcing the board to cancel their next meeting until Tuesday, September 7, at which time they will take up matters planned for this week's session.

King's Needful Things Makes for Better Black Comedy

By Kenneth J. Souza

• Needful Things. Starring Max Von Sydow, Ed Harris, Bonnie Bedelia, Amanda Plummer. Directed by Fraser C. Heston. Rated R (language, violence, some sexual content).

It's refreshing to know that some of Stephen King's more colorless recent novels can still be salvaged into entertaining screen adaptations.

Having fallen into an abyss of self-parody and repetition since Pet Sematary — his last, truly innovative creation — the giant film processor that eagerly gobbles anything with the Maine author's name on it has churned out some God-awful sub-B movies that present inexperienced directors an opportunity to dip their lens in a sea of crimson. Even the once-brilliant George A. Romero (Creepshow, Dawn of the Dead) fell flat on his face with The Dark Half earlier this year.

Surprisingly, Needful Things, a King yawner hawking a "devil comes to small town" parable, becomes an insightful black comedy in the hands of director Fraser C. Heston (yes, the son of Moses and Ben Hur) and witty screenwriter W. D. Richter (The Adventures of Buckaroo Banzai, Big Trouble in Little China).

And it doesn't hurt to have venerable character actor Max Von Sydow chewing up the scenery as devil-incarnate Leland Gaunt, either.

The plot is simple, if somewhat pedantic. A stranger opens a small, specialized antique shop in Castle Rock, Maine which affords its customers everything they've ever wanted. The catch is, in lieu of cash payment, the shop owner, Mr. Gaunt, entices his customers to perform little "pranks" on other town residents. The result is a turbulent, boiling pot of angry people who turn one against the other and, in some cases, force them to murder their neighbors, family and friends.

It's not clear in the film whether Mr. Gaunt is, in fact, that pointy-tailed nemesis or just one of his chief henchmen. Regardless, Von Sydow relishes every moment on screen, playing the role so tongue-in-cheek that it becomes a riotous black comedy.

And wonderful supporting roles from the always-excellent Ed Harris, Bonnie Bedelia, Amanda Plummer and J. T. Walsh as a greedy, egocentric town Selectman round out the film and bring it into the realm of a unique study of small town New England life.

Unlike the overpreachy novel on which it was based, the film version of Needful Things brims with subtle humor and dark one-liners. When Mr. Gaunt provides a chronic barfly with a gun to kill the tavern owner who keeps tormenting him, he soothes the apprehensive man's fears by declaring: "Relax. Guns don't kill people. People kill people." And when the town Selectman moans and groans over his obsessive dirty work, Mr. Gaunt notes: "You are truly a disgusting individual. I like that in a person."

There remains one out of place speech at the film's end which seems unnecessary and even repetitious. Otherwise, the film is tightly edited and well directed by fledgling director Heston (who previously directed his father as Sherlock Holmes in a made-for-television production). He avoids the temptation to employ shock value techniques and grotesque gore which so often spoil the essence of Mr. King's tales, and horror films in general.

Although the film isn't likely to win any awards — despite Von Sydow's wonderful performance — it remains an honest study of how far people will go to satisfy their own needs and a wonderful slice of small community life where everyone knows everyone else's deepest, darkest secrets. Reminiscent of King's earlier — and better — short story "I Know What You Need," it shows how greed and selfishness can destroy individuals and, eventually, everyone and everything around them.

residents who have not visited the Mattapoisett Shipyard Park and the waterfront area recently to the addition of the most attractive new lights which have been installed and are operating. They are designed in the form of the old-fashioned gas street lights and cast a soft, pleasing illumination, adding immeasurably to the pleasure and enjoyment of strolling through the area, or when sitting in the park, admiring the view.

Those responsible for this most welcome addition to the beauty of our waterfront are to be highly commended.

Adoptable Animals

Fur Fore!

The kittens rescued from the Fall River Country Club are still awaiting calls from their golfer friends! Among the group are males and females, all short-haired and about six weeks old. These cute, little kittens are a sure-fire hole-in-one and are available now for adoption through our friends at the local chapter of Animal Umbrella, Inc.

Also still available this week:

- two orange and white brothers with long hair.

One of the two "Charlie's" is now very sad and lonesome since she is all alone in the cattery just waiting for someone to adopt her. She is a two year old spayed female that resembles a Maine coon cat and would make a super children's pet.

New kids on the block this week include:

Marion Achieves Goal to Aid Marion County Flood Victims

Police Association Thanks Residents

The Marion Police Officers Association roundly applauds the citizens of Marion and supporters from surrounding towns who made the Flood Relief Drive a smashing success. Our ambitious goal of $25,000 in money and goods was surpassed with a late surge of backing that came from all quarters of the community.

Academic supplies were shipped in time for Hannibal's school opening and a trailer truck "filled to capacity" will depart from Marion over the Labor Day weekend, with the bulk of the much-needed donated and purchased materials.

We are proud to be associated with everyone who joined and believed that the drive was a worthy effort.

This is a win-win situation! Marion County, Missouri wins, receiving the much needed flood relief goods. Marion, MA wins because we rallied behind a worthy cause and made it happen. Success is wonderful!

You made this Flood Relief Drive a most gratifying experience. Congratulations and sincere thanks again to all the believers.

Singed,

Marion Police Officers Association: Juanita Barros, President; George Jennings, Chairman; Peter Smith, Treasurer; G. Richard Duffy, Correspondent; David Paquin, Transportation; Robert Nunes, Organizer; Edwin Pina, Organizer.

Search for the Missing Canoes

Mattapoisett Boy Scout Troop 53 is searching for four canoes that are "stored" somewhere in Mattapoisett! Their whereabouts are unknown at this time. If anyone has any information about them or knows where they are, it would be highly appreciated if they could contact Scout Master Philip Gaudet at 758-9403 or Quartermaster David Baker at 758-2049. The scouts are planning a canoe trip down the Saco River this fall, and it would be much easier with canoes. Thank you for your help.

Marion Town Clerk

Marion Town Clerk Debra M. Blanchette would like to remind dog owners that their pets must be licensed for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1993. The cost is $7 for a spayed or neutered dog and $10 for all others, male or female. It is necessary to provide proof of rabies vaccination at the time of obtaining a license. If the dog was licensed last year and the vaccination is still valid, it is not necessary to provide it again. All dogs three months of age or older must be licensed.

place at the Mattapoisett Museum and Carriage House. Two wooden signs which used to hang on either side of the front door have been missing for several years. They were found earlier this summer, tucked away under the stairs in the Carriage House. They have been repainted and rehung and can now be seen, back in their old positions at the entrance to the museum.

Thank You

A special thank you to all who visited the museum this summer. We hope you enjoyed your visit and that you will tell others about the museum and urge them to visit when they can. Our regular visiting hours are over for the summer, but there will be opportunities for people to come by throughout the fall and winter months. As programs are planned for this next period of time, we will announce them in the papers. All of the programs offered by the Historical Society are open to the public.

A thank you is also due to all the people who gave of their time to serve as "docents" at the museum over the summer. We appreciate your willingness to help.

And while we are in the "thank you" mode — a

Rochester Voters Approve Bridge Repairs

On Wednesday, August 25, 243 ballots were cast during a Special Town Election in Rochester — a mere 10 percent of the town's over 2,400 registered voters — to consider a $100,000 override to repair and resurface the badly damaged Mary's Pond Bridge. Despite the small turnout, the override was successfully passed, 148 votes in favor, 95 against.

The bridge and a section of Mary's Pond Road have been closed since mid-June when Highway Surveyor Jeff Eldridge advised the Board of Selectmen of its hazardous nature. Since that time traffic has been re-routed down a portion of Route 105.

According to Mr. Eldridge, the project will go out to bid once a town-hired engineer presents his formal repair recommendations and the renovations are cleared with the local historic commission to ensure the landmark structure is not drastically altered.

R. McCormick Tribune Foundation to all living veterans of World War I. The face of the medal, surrounded by a laurel wreath signifying honor, is encircled by a band bearing the inscription "75th Anniversary" at the top and "World War I" at the bottom. The band, in blue, indicates loyalty and devotion to duty.

The reverse side features a branch of oak, symbolic of strength, acknowledging the sacrifices and contributions of the veterans who fought in World War I. The inscription "They came on the wings of eagles" running along the bottom edge comes from the World War I American Memorial at Saint-Nazaire. A dedication "A Grateful Nation Remembers," with the dates 1918-93, marking the 75 years since the war's end. The attached ribbon is an adaptation of the rainbow design used for the World War I Victory Medal.

Each commemorative medal comes in its own dark blue presentation box with "United States of America" on the outside lid. The medal was commissioned and designed by the Robert R. McCormick Tribune Foundation with technical assistance of the U.S. Army Institute of Heraldry.

Any World War I veterans in the area may contact Harvey J. Blanchette, District Director of Veterans Services for Mattapoisett/Rochester at 758-4114, Monday through Friday between the hours of 8:30 am and 12:00 noon for further information.

Mattapoisett Teacher Attends Conference

Ms. Louise Hague, LIFT teacher of the Mattapoisett Public Schools, recently participated in Confratute '93, the international conference/institute on educating gifted and talented children and youth held July 19-30 at the University of Connecticut.

Now in its 16th consecutive year, Confratute, sponsored jointly by the Special Education Center, the School of Education at the University of Connecticut, and the Connecticut State Department of Education, has distinguished itself as one of the world's most definitive conferences/institutes on gifted education. A primary feature of Confratute is the converging of prominent leaders in the field upon a single site for two weeks to interact and consult with teachers, administrators, and parents eager to learn about exceptionally able youngsters. Who they are, how they learn differently from other children, and what parents and school personnel need to do to help them develop their creative abilities and talents are explored in depth by the participants.

Confratute '93 was attended by some 600 educators from 44 states and U.S. territories, the Bahamas, the Philippines, Bahrain, Canada, China, Singapore, South Africa, and several European nations. Confratute '94 is scheduled for July 18-29, 1994.

problems for the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) has been revived by groups asking veterans to pay for assistance in collecting a non-existent life insurance dividend.

"In the past, the insurance hoax caused only administrative problems for VA. Now there are those who are trying to make a profit at the expense of veterans, and we are resolved to stopping them," said VA Secretary Jesse Brown. "I have instructed the VA Inspector General to work with the Postal Service to do everything possible to put an end to this latest version of the hoax and to alert all veterans."

VA's Regional Office and Insurance Center in Philadelphia reports veterans and active duty personnel throughout the country have received flyers, including return forms, from groups or individuals offering veterans assistance in applying for dividends or in answering questions they may have for fees ranging from $2 to $15 for each request.

The flyers falsely claim that dividends from veteran's life insurance policies are available to any veteran who applies. For veterans who served at least two years in the military, the flyers claim the dividends range from $264 for two years of service and increase for each additional year of service.

The phony applications and flyers, past and present, claim the dividends have been recently authorized by Congress. In fact, there is no such dividend for veterans who do not keep their insurance in force, nor a rebate for active duty personnel. No legislation has been approved or proposed by Congress.

In the past, the hoax applications were unwittingly printed in magazines, newspapers and newsletters, or distributed in handbills. The hoax has

Marion Art Center

Bregoli-Mason Exhibit

A two-person exhibit of portraits by Jane Bregoli and Fred Mason is now on display at the Marion Art Center.

Ms. Bregoli is well-known in the area for her hauntingly beautiful portraits of 90-plus-year-old Noelie Houle, the famous "Goat Lady of Dartmouth." A graduate of the Massachusetts College of Art with a BFA in Art Education, Ms. Bregoli recently received a Master of Fine Arts degree from the University of Massachusetts Dartmouth.

Mr. Mason's style, which he calls contemporary realism, is specific and contained, with a palette reminiscent of the Impressionists. He has studied at the School of Visual Arts, the Art Students League, the Brooklyn Museum School and New York University. He maintains a studio in Greenwich, CT.

The Bregoli-Mason Portrait Show will be open to the public through September 15. Gallery hours are Tuesday - Friday, 1:00 to 5:00 pm and Saturday, 10:00 am to 2:00 pm. There is no admission charge.

Rock Celebration in Onset Slated for September 5

In a spectacular finale to a summer-long entertainment line-up, the Onset Bay Association will present Rock 'N' Roll bands Jack Nasty, Enticer, and Run 21 in the bandshell on September 5 at 2:00 pm.

Jack Nasty, formerly known as Impact, has been performing for five years. One of the most exciting and powerful bands to hit the area, Jack Nasty recently earned the title "Cape Cod's Most Dangerous Band." Tom Theodore of Onset plays drums and is vocalist for the group, John Gay is the lead vocalist, and Miles Deloid, Tom Walliston and Barry Olsen all play guitar and sing. Jack Nasty produces versions of other performers' music which, according to one reviewer, "make you swear you just paid big bucks to hear the real thing."

Injecting power and feeling into every performance, Enticer has conquered the local club scene. Rhandy Jenkins plays guitar and performs vocals, Mike D'Angelo plays drums, Dave D'Angelo is on bass guitar and vocals, Marky is also on guitar and vocals and recent addition "the beautiful lady" Jessica adds to an already potent combination, "goose-bump producing" vocals.

Run 21 caps off the day-long rock blast. Returning to the "now famous" Onset Labor Day Show, Run 21 celebrates 10 years since their first Labor Day concert appearance in the bandshell. Band members are Onset resident Stet Howland on drums and vocals, Dug Blaire on guitar and vocals, and Jimmy Carter (no, not that one) on bass and vocals.

Since the fateful Labor Day Concert a decade ago, the careers of Run 21 and its members have soared. Run 21 recorded their first album, "Flat Black Parts" in 1986. In 1988, Stet Howland accepted a recording deal and embarked on a world tour with the LA-based group Impellitteri, whose video was featured on MTV and VH-1. Returning from his sojourn with Impellitteri, Stet resumed touring with Run 21. The group continued to produce new material which is showcased in a new album, "Allergic to Reality." Stet Howland also recorded "The Crimson Idol" (Capital Records) with WASP, and along with Doug Blaire toured the U.S., Japan, and Europe as part of the group. WASP has shared

In addition to a well-received series of Wednesday night concerts in the park, a Fifties Fling, and the First Annual Onset Bay Blues Festival, the Onset Bay Association (OBA) in cooperation with Wareham Recreation also sponsored a swing band concert and fireworks display on the Fourth of July, and a variety of other summer events. considers the UMass Dartmouth textile sciences program critical to the industry because the University provides the only source of textiles-trained employees. UMass Dartmouth offers the only undergraduate and graduate academic program in the textiles science in the north, a region in which the textile industry employs some 62,000 people.

UMass Dartmouth Chancellor Peter H. Cressy, who accepted the check on behalf of the Textile Sciences Department, said the unrestricted funds will be used to serve the University's mission of enhancing economic development and increasing diversity among its students. "If economic development is really going to work, we've got to help the inner city youth to consider a career and an education that might lead to textiles," he said.

UMass Dartmouth to Hold International Friendship Picnic

A get-acquainted picnic for International Friendship Families and international students who are enrolling at the University of Massachusetts Dartmouth will be held from 1:00 to 4:00 pm on September 12 at the university.

Food and games will be provided by the college as part of International Student Orientation. The picnic — rain or shine — will be held between parking lot 14 and the textile building. For information, please call evenings 674-6712 or 999-4185. For more information on UMass Dartmouth's New Student Programs, please call 999-8646.
